

SATURDAY SUPER LECTURES

Dawn Hunt, Diane Shink, Rosalie

Tennison: CSI: Quilt

Join the Crooked Seam Investigators (CSI) as they unravel the mysteries of quilt history, care and value. Whatever happened to fugitive purple and what is so "hot" about pink? During this lecture learn about the intrigue of the quilt world -- the myths, the incorrect hunches and how one quilter's Drunkard's Path became another's Vine of Friendship. Canadian members of the Professional Association of Appraisers - Quilted Textiles will share their knowledge and answer questions in this information packed lecture.

9:00 am - Glen 206

Gail Hunt: A Space for Sewing: 101

Great Ideas

Whether you have a desk in a closet or the whole attic, you will discover dozens of ideas you can use starting now, for making your sewing space efficient, pleasant, tidy, creative, and comfortable. Slides from studios and quiltmakers across the country will offer ideas for your own space even if you have a nonexistent budget. A handout lists the 101 great ideas, and includes brand-names, prices and where applicable.

11:45 am - Glen 206

Heather Stewart: Creativity: What is It and Where Do I Get Some?

If you feel you may need a gentle shove to get out of your comfort zone.....try this lecture! A fun and informative lecture to look at what creativity is, how to uncover your creative genius and squash the critic within each of us.

This is an interactive lecture with audience participation. Get ready to experience a few "ah-ha" moments! Let's play with some ideas and learn some new techniques to change our thinking about productivity and progress. Try a few of the fun creativity exercises and be inspired!

1:30 pm - Glen 206

Kathleen Bissett: Copyright for Quilters A Lecture & Virtual Trunk Show

There is a great deal of confusion concerning copyright and how it applies to quiltmaking. Since sharing has always been an important aspect of quiltmaking, it is understandable that the issue of copyright is not even considered. What some of us unwittingly do is infringe upon the copyright of those who provide us with the designs we love to make. Images of actual quilts will be used to illustrate various issues that we, as quiltmakers, need to understand.
